REMEMBER

Reminder! We often receive missionary newsletters that we do not get to share with our church family. We used to try to put the newsletters in the bulletin but that has become difficult. We read some of the letters on Sunday nights during the service, but there is a leather notebook on the information desk with the most recent newsletter from our missionaries. One of our primary responsibilities to our missionaries is the pray for them. To do that effectively, you will need to be familiar with their ministry and their specific needs. I encourage you to take a minute and read the letters. Many times, they are happy to put you on their email list. Most of the prayer letters come to us through email. Getting on their email list is simple and is a great way to keep up.
